III. Performance Discussion and Analysis

1. Brief introduction to operation situation in the report period

In the first half year of 2019, the global economic situation was turbulent and risk events occurred frequently. Under the background of a slowdown in the global economic growth and increasing uncertainty, the market environment for entity economies became extremely severe.

Confronting the complex and volatile market environment, all the industries the Company involved were facing certain operating pressure, to which the management team and the divisions of the Company responded positively, taking great effort to resolve difficulties, and the Company achieved preferable business performance in the first half year of 2019. Although the Company lost part of its revenue compared with the same period of last year due to the technical upgrade of polysilicon and polysilicon wafer, the Company's overall profit increased year on year. In the first half year of 2019, the Company achieved operating income of RMB 4,888 million, net profit of RMB 387 million, with a year-on-year increase of RMB 28 million and growth rate of 7.70%, and net profit attributable to the parent company of RMB 377 million, with a year-on-year increase of RMB 25 million and growth rate of 6.95 %.

Glass industry:

In the first half year of 2019, due to the impact of the rising cost of natural gas fuel, the overall slowdown in real estate growth and the adverse effects of Sino-US trade friction on automotive glass and industrial glass exports, the glass industry was generally under pressure, the prices of which fluctuated to a certain extent. By taking a series of measures, the Company had achieved good business performance. In the first half year of 2019, the glass industry achieved operating income of RMB 3,670 million with an increase of 0.13% and net profit of RMB 355 million, with a decrease of 19.90%. The detail is as follows:

Flat glass: In the first half year of 2019, influenced by the rising cost of glass production resulted by the rising price of natural gas fuel, and the slowdown of downstream demand, the operation of the flat glass industry was under pressure and the overall performance showed a certain year-on-year decline. To cope with unfavorable effects of the industry, the Company effectively reduced the negative impact of rising fuel costs and falling industry prices through continuous promotion of industry synergies, product structure optimization, cost reduction and efficiency enhancement.

Architectural glass: In the first half year of 2019, under the pressure of industry changes and intensified competition, the Company adopted a series of management measures, including improving and running marketing network to improve service quality, promoting informatization and automation to increase production efficiency, and strengthening cost control and assessment to lower costs effectively, and the performance of the architectural glass industry bucked the trend and increased significantly, maintaining its leading position in this industry.

Solar energy industry:

Affected by the policy, PV market still was hovering at the bottom in the first half year of 2019, especially in the manufacturing market of upstream materials. Meanwhile, affected by the rapid expansion of new production capacity in the regions with low electrovalence and the continuous introduction of new technologies, the operation and development of the solar energy industry were under great pressure. In order to actively cope with the severe market environment, in addition to the technical upgrade of polysilicon and polysilicon wafer in the early stage, in the first half year of 2019, the Company adopted multi-pronged approach from industry strategy to refined management, positively expanding external cooperation of PV industry, increasing production and sales share of high value-added products, continuously improving production efficiency and reducing costs,. Although the fact that some capacity had come off line resulted by the technical upgrade of polysilicon and polysilicon wafer had a certain impact on income, the solar energy sector as a whole achieved a turnaround. In the first half year of 2019, the solar energy industry achieved operating income of RMB 775 million, and net profit of RMB 23 million, reducing losses by RMB 67 million.

Electronic glass and display industry:

In the first half year of 2019, the electronic glass and display industry continued to grow with the upgrading of product technology and the steady development of the market and achieved operating income of RMB 510 million, and net profit of RMB 105 million, with a year-on-year increase of RMB 47 million and growth rate of 82%. In January 2019, the high-alumina electronic glass production base of Xianning Photovoltaic officially entered commercial operation. Through continuous R&D investment and technological innovation, the product quality has gradually improved and the products have entered the domestic famous brand market. The construction of Qingyuan CSG Phase II, ultra white electronic glass project, is going on smoothly. When the project is completed, the industry influence of CSG electronic glass will be further enhanced. Yichang Display seized the opportunity of vehicle touch control market, speeded up equipment expansion and transformation projects, fully released production capacity, and greatly increased the shipment volume of yellow light and TP modules. The AG glass production line mainly oriented to the automotive central control panel market is now in the trial production stage and expected to be officially transferred to commercial operation in the second half of the year, which will become a new profit contributor for CSG's display industry.
